

Memories of Azusa High School

Name: Janice Quick Ashborn

Favorite song: Love Me Tender

Favorite subject: PE

Favorite teacher: Miss Powell

Favorite hangout: Courtyard bench with a few friends like Susie Dove.

Favorite food: Those terrible hamburgers from the snack bar with a coke.

Favorite activity: Softball, I loved to hit that ball!

Favorite outfit: Matching blue skirt and sweater set with matching sox.

First car: 52 Ford, it was green but mostly primer. I was out of high school by then however.

First date: When I was 3, his name was Jared, he lived across the street in Altadena and he was 3 too. We made mud pies together while our mothers chaperoned. Our fathers were at war.

Christmas dance date: Walt, he took me in his Dad's Pontiac station wagon.

Senior prom date: Walt and I and Ken MacDermott and Doris Hanson went together.

Biggest crush: Walt, he was very charming.

Biggest fear: Bad Grades, after all my dad was a school teacher.

Biggest distraction: Homework, my part time job at Bill's Sporting Goods and my social life were in conflict.

Fondest memory: Senior Party with Walt. Everyone was a lot of fun. I remember I enjoyed having my fortune told by Tom Chase – he was very humorous.

Funniest moment: Trying to run as fast as Nancy Barta, she was so fast! I couldn't figure out why she could run faster when my legs were a little longer. Norma Steeve was the fastest though.

Most embarrassing moment: Can't remember but my grades in Advanced Algebra had to be right up there at the top. I checked out after the first semester. Only class I ever bailed on.

Most frightening experience: Advanced Algebra

Most humiliating experience: Bad hair days, even though I used bobby pins in my straight hair to curl it every night.

Biggest accomplishment (personal): Got 5 free shots out of 5 in basketball test but didn't like playing basketball much because some of the tall girls scratched me in the face.
