

Baltic Sea Cruise

by Joy Rubio and Rose Montes

Richard and Rose Montes and Richard and Joy Rubio embarked on a 10 day cruise of the Baltic Sea on June 29, 2010. We spent 2 days in London indulging in the wonderful flavors of England with great food and a great pub. While in London we visited the Tower of London and Buckingham Palace for the Changing of the Guard. But the highlight of London (at least for Rose and Joy) was visiting Harrods Department Store, but only for ONE hour, not enough time, ladies you can relate. However, the next time we visit Harrods it will be without impatient husbands.

At Dover, England we boarded the EURODAM Cruise Ship cruising the Baltic Sea disembarking at many interesting ports. Among them was Hamburg, Germany, Tallin, Estonia, St Petersburg, Russia, Helsinki, Finland, and Stockholm, Sweden. While on the ship we indulged in fabulous and exotic food, danced to great music, enjoyed the spa, just the like the rich and famous. We were truly treated like royalty every moment of our cruise, the staff was wonderful. Our last stop was Copenhagen, Denmark where we had the opportunity to mingle with the locals, enjoyed the local cuisine, including their version of chicharrones (pork rinds for you gringos). During our stay Copenhagen was hosting a Jazz Festival, which allowed us to partake in some of the festivities with live music in the streets, FOOD and lots of people. Copenhagen a must see city which offers so much enjoyment to any traveler.

After 14 days, back to reality. Before their departure from Heathrow Airport, Joy and Rose were able to do some last minute shopping in the Harrods gift shop. Four good friends spending two wonderful weeks, something they would have never imagined would be possible nearly 50 years ago.
